TIFFANY POLLACK & ERIC JOHANSON

BLUES IN MY BLOOD

Key Selling Points:

Tiffany Pollack and Eric Johanson are third generation members of a musical family that Pollack only discovered at the age of 25, after having been given up for adoption at birth. Recorded and produced in New Orleans by Jack Miele at The Music Shed Studios, "Blues in my Blood" is an 11-track collection of both original and cover songs. Eric Johanson appears courtesy of Whiskey Bayou Records.

Born and raised in New Orleans, Tiffany Pollack began singing as soon as she could talk. Although never receiving formal training, countless hours of her childhood and teens were spent at her parents' old 70's organ and later the out-of-tune piano they bought for her, writing songs by ear and singing very loudly. Her adoptive family's annoyance never discouraged her from sharing the songs in her heart. She performs regularly in New Orleans singing primarily jazz with The Dapper Dandies and her band, Tiffany Pollack & Co, as well as doing session vocals at The Music Shed. Pollack says, "Recording this album with my cousin Eric was one of the most beautiful experiences of my life. I'm so happy that after years of our mothers dying for us to work together we finally did it, and I'm really proud of what we wrote together."

New Orleans native Eric Johanson has toured across the US and internationally as lead guitarist for the legendary Cyril Neville, Grammy-winning Zydeco artist Terrance Simien, and performed onstage with Tab Benoit, JJ Grey & Mofro, Eric Lindell, Mike Zito, Anders Osborne, the Neville Brothers, and many more. Following his debut release on Whiskey Bayou Records, "Burn It Down," in October 2017, Johanson has been touring across the US supporting Tab Benoit at sold-out theaters and performance halls. He says, "From the first time I played onstage with a band at 13, it was blues. And no matter what style of music I may have been trying to create at different times in my life, if I picked up a guitar without thinking about it - what came out was blues."

DAVE MEDER PASSAGE

Key Selling Points:

The debut release of pianist and composer Dave Meder, featuring the generation-defining saxophonists Chris Potter and Miguel Zenón. With empathetic support from bassist Tamir Shmerling and drummer Kush Abadey, Meder embarks on an ambitious postmodernist outing, traversing a rarely-played Thelonious Monk piece, a gospel hymn, a title track inspired by Philip Glass, and original compositions on the cutting edge of modern jazz.

TRACK LISTING:

1. Work
2. For Wayne
3. The Old Rugged Cross
4. This Road (featuring Miguel Zenon)
