GOODNIGHT SUZIE BOOMBOX

Key Selling Points:

Goodnight Suzie consists of Suzie and Ben Bradford--their music glows with a dreamy and accessible sound, illustrative of their 15 years performing together, including time in Seattle-based cover band The Side Project. Influenced by the works of folk singer-songwriters such as Brandi Carlile and Amos Lee, Boombox carries a blend of repetitive pop hooks and stripped-down instrumentation.

Notable tracks include the catchy "I Get The Feeling" and "Wannabe Hipster." Lyrically, the album draws expressiveness from simple and honest descriptions to capture moments and ambiances, and also to paint pictures. Boombox's production and arrangement is a subtle blend of guitar picking and piano textures, as can be heard on "Cookie Cutter" as well as in the percussive mandolin embellishments on "Devils Play."

IDAN MORIM

I. M.

Key Selling Points:

I.M, the debut album from Israeli-born and NYC-based Idan Morim, is an elegant exploration of “being” by the guitarist and composer. As a bandleader, Morim leads his quintet through the album’s nine tracks, whose shifting tone colors and harmonious aesthetics meditate on the tension between identity and being. Morim presents the listener with a dimensional set of landscapes and stories, which, in the expert hands of the I.M quintet, reveal their complexities as the album unfolds. As the title alludes to, it is a record that manages to simultaneously ask and assert: I Am.

TRACY NEWMAN SING WITH ME

Key Selling Points:

“Sing With Me” is the third CD in the multi-award-winning children’s series RUN ALONG HOME ~ Songs for Kids by Tracy Newman. In true Tracy fashion, this collection is infectious and fun and once again filled with age-appropriate songs that celebrate the “unhurried childhood” and teach as well as entertain. A long history of working with young children has given Tracy the opportunity to discover what they respond to in terms of rhythms, melodies, words and repetition. Her desire to create a soundtrack woven into the memories of their early childhood continues to be at the heart of all of her recordings, along with original artwork of her daughter, Charlotte Dean.

Tracy has been playing guitar and collecting folk songs all of her life. As a teen she led summer camp singalongs; in her 20’s she was a singer/songwriter and had her own children’s TV show on PBS; in her 30’s she taught nursery school and ran the singing programs. Her 40’s brought the high-profile TV career. But, at 62, Tracy returned to her first love as a singer/songwriter. This eventually led her back full circle to children’s music.

TRACY NEWMAN’s long and prolific writing and producing career in TV comedy includes Cheers, Bob, The Nanny, Ellen and The Drew Carey Show. In 1997, she and writing partner, Jonathan Stark, won an Emmy and Peabody Award for the groundbreaking “coming out” episode of Ellen. In 2001, they created the hit ABC comedy, According to Jim. She is also a founding member of the LA-based improv group, The Groundlings, which has become the farm company for Saturday Night Live.
